Selection Of Mathematical Objects From The History Screen On A Handheld Device

ABSTRACT

A graphing calculator (10) having a user interface that allows the user to easily select mathematical objects from the history screen and incorporate those objects as inputs. The user interface preferably includes a sub-expression selection mode that allows the user to manipulate a selection box over the desired mathematical object.